Known as "Rome of the East", "Tourist Paradise" and "Pearl of the Orient", the state of Goa is located on the western coast of India in the coastal belt known as Konkan. Goa was under the rule of the Portuguese for over 450 years. The territory of Goa was liberated from the Portuguese rule in the year 1961. A very striking feature of Goa is the harmonious relationship among various religious communities, who have lived together peacefully for generations.

Goa, the tranquil beach paradise on the west coast of India. Relax from the hectic pace of everyday life and enjoy your winter sun holidays. Gentle breeze, swaying palm trees, the never ending shore line, the beaches with golden sand and the regular lapping of the waves. This is Goa, the magical place in India.

Variouly known as "Pearl of the Orient" and a "Tourist Paradise", the state of Goa is located on the western coast of India in the coastal belt known as Konkan. Goa was liberated by the Indian Army from Portuguese colonisation on December 19, 1961 and became an Union Territory along with the enclaves of Daman and Diu. On May 30, 1987 Goa was conferred statehood and became the 25th state of the Indian Republic.

Having been the meeting point of races, religions and cultures of East and West over the centuries, Goa has a multi-hued and distinctive lifestyle quite different from the rest of India. Hindu and Catholic communities make up almost the entire population with minority representation of Muslims and other religions. The tourist season in Goa begins in late September and carries on through early March. The weather in these months is usually dry and pleasantly cool. Besides the natural beauty, the fabulous beaches and sunshine, travellers to Goa love the laid-back, peaceful, warm and friendly nature of the Goan people. After all, more than anywhere else on planet earth, this is a place where people really know how to relax.

Overnight at the hotel.

	Day 2 : In Goa
--	-----------------------

- Breakfast at hotel
- Half day tour of Old Goa
- Afternoon at leisure
- Overnight at the hotel

After breakfast, leave for the sightseeing of Old Goa.

9 km from the East of Panjim is Old Goa and is popular for its churches and cathedrals. Some of the old buildings are converted into museums maintained by Archaeological Survey of India. Old Goa is still the spiritual heart of Christian Goa. It has been granted World Heritage Status by UNESCO for its extraordinarily grandiose churches & convents.

It was the second capital of the Adil Shahi dynasty of Bijapur before the arrival of the Portuguese. Under the Portuguese, the city grew rapidly in size and splendor. But it was short-lived because by the end of the 16th century. That of the British, French & Dutch, had replaced Portuguese supremacy on the seas. In 1843, the capital was shifted to Panaji.
